DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6, 35, 37, 43 and 45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rodriguez, Jr. et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,520,464). Rodriguez teaches a projection unit 100 comprising: a projector 106 including a wide-angle lens system (col. 5, line 58), the projector positioned substantially adjacent (figures 3-8) a display screen 102 and configured to generate an image on the display surface; and a moveable element 108/110 supporting the projector configured to enable selective lateral positioning of the projector to move the projector from a storage position (fig. 4) to an operation position (figure 3). Figure 3 depicts projection at a steep angle (at least 30 degrees to the screen)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7, 12, 14, 17, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rodriguez, Jr. et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,520,464) in view of an airplane. Rodriguez already recognizes that projection systems may be placed on airplanes. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to place the system of Rodriguez (and therefore the screen) on an airplane for the purpose of shipping/transporting the system to a customer/desired location.

Claims 1-2, 6-7, 9-10, 12, 14-16, 19, 22, 26, 28-30, 32-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hoffman (U.S. Patent No. 4,281,352) in view of Holder (U.S. Patent No. 5,322,419). Hoffman teaches a projection unit comprising: a projector 44, the projector positioned substantially adjacent (figures 1-2) a display screen 22 and configured to generate an image on the display surface; and a moveable element 14/46 supporting the projector configured to enable selective lateral positioning of the projector to move the projector from a storage position (fig. 7) to an operation position (figure 1). Hoffman does not teach that the projector comprises a wide angle lens system. Holder teaches in col. 1, line 64 that it was known to use a wide angle lens system in a collapsible projection system. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize the features taught by Holder for the purpose of minimizing the size of the projection unit. The screen is being interpreted as a wall between the viewer and the interior optics. Regarding claims 22, 29 and 38, Hoffman in view of Holder discloses the claimed invention except for the angle of projection. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize a 30 degree angle for the purpose of utilizing an optimum range. The applicant should note that it has been held that where the general working conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

Art Unit: 2851

Claims 8 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hoffman (U.S. Patent No. 4,281,352) in view of Holder (U.S. Patent No. 5,322,419) and further in view of Kuwa (U.S. Patent No. 6,624,952). Hoffman in view of Holder teaches the salient features of the claimed invention except for a relay lens generating a distorted image and a wide angle lens canceling out the distortion. Kuwa teaches a wide-angle lens system having a first stage (CyrR) to create a distorted intermediate image and a second, wide angle lens stage IGTFI that causes distortion to substantially cancel the distortion from the intermediate image and to project a substantially non-distorted image corresponding to the intermediate image on the screen. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize the features taught by Kuwa for the purpose of providing a high performance and high resolution.

Claim 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hoffman (U.S. Patent No. 4,281,352) in view of Holder (U.S. Patent No. 5,322,419) and further in view of Sunaga (U.S. Pub. No. 2002/0008853). Hoffman in view of Holder teaches the salient features of the claimed invention except for at least two planar direction changing elements. Sunaga teaches that it was known to use at least two planar direction changing elements in a wide angle lens system. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize the features taught by Sunaga for the purpose of further compacting size.

Claims 20 and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hoffman (U.S. Patent No. 4,281,352) in view of Holder (U.S. Patent No. 5,322,419) and further in view of Goto (U.S. Patent No. 6,023,369). Hoffman in view of Holder teaches the salient features of the claimed invention except for a Fresnel lens screen. Goto teaches in the figures that it was known to utilize a Fresnel lens screen. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize the features taught by Goto for the purpose of obtaining a desired angle of visibility.

Claims 21 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hoffman (U.S. Patent No. 4,281,352) in view of Holder (U.S. Patent No. 5,322,419) and further in view of Koizumi (U.S. Patent No. 5,982,537). Hoffman in view of Holder teaches the salient features of the claimed invention except for a roll up screen. Koizumi teaches in the figures that it was known to utilize a roll up screen. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize the features taught by Koizumi for the purpose of easily accommodating the screen when not used.

Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hoffman (U.S. Patent No. 4,281,352) in view of Holder (U.S. Patent No. 5,322,419) and further in view of Maslow (U.S. Patent No. 5,580,143). Hoffman in view of Holder teaches the salient features of the claimed invention except for the projector being removable. Maslow teaches in figures 31-34 that it was known to utilize a removable projector. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize the features taught by teaches for the purpose of replacing damaged components.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 11, 13, and 24 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
